Director of Beech Community Services Celebrates 25 Years

Christine Brown, Director of Beech Community Services (BCS) was recently honored for 25 years of impactful service to the Cecil B. Moore community. She was presented with citations from both City Council President Darrell Clarke during City Council hearings on June 15, 2017 and Senator Sharif Street at the 11th annual “Jazz on the Ave” Music Fest on August 12, 2017.

During City Council hearings, Council President Darrell Clarke stated that, “Christine is a living example of progressive vision and has dedicated her career to community service by improving the lives of others.” He went on to commend her for being a role model in her community and family and that he was honored to celebrate her for 25-years of tireless and dedicated service to North Philadelphia.

Christine is a proud, lifelong North Philadelphian with deep roots to the Cecil B. Moore community and attended the W.D. Kelly Elementary School and Vaux Junior High School, both located in North Philadelphia. As an eager and enthusiastic youngster, she learned early that giving back and paying it forward is the “right thing to do” and she continues to follow that advice given to her by her godparents.

As the Director of BCS, Christine oversees several programs; the Beech Scholarship Fund, which offers scholarships to high school seniors and current college students and the Alston Beech Foundation, which provides grants to local non-profits. For the last 12 years, she has spearheaded the daily cleanup efforts along the Cecil B. Moore business corridor and adjacent residential blocks which has helped with the beautification efforts in the community. She is also the driving force behind “Jazz on the Ave” an annual music festival and Avenue of Treats, an annual harvest event for children that live or attend school in the Cecil B. Moore community.

Over the years, Christine has been the recipient of several awards like the Civil Rights Achievement Award from The Pennsylvania Legislative Black Caucus, and various other awards from local organizations recognizing her for her invaluable public service and advocacy.

Free Music Festival Attended by Thousands

The 11th annual “Jazz on the Ave” (JOA) Music Fest featuring Philly Soul Stock was attended by thousands of music enthusiasts. Even with the threat of rain, that did not stop loyal festival-goers and community residents from coming out to enjoy this much anticipated, annual event along Cecil B. Moore Avenue in North Philadelphia. The all-day free community festival took place on Saturday, August 12th with two stages of live music, children’s activities, food, craft vendors, and more.

“When I see the smiles and hear the laughter coming from children and adults, it warms my heart, states Christine Brown, Producer of ‘Jazz on the Ave.’ I get so much pleasure in seeing everyone have such a good time with family and friends. Folks were having such a great time, enjoying the music and dancing. Even a police officer from the 22nd district demonstrated his line dancing skills which received coverage on the news. It is a great feeling knowing how much this event means to the community and how it has become one of the desired events to attend during the summer by Philadelphian’s and out-of-towners. The Avenue is transformed into a melting pot of all types of people, of all ages and races, enjoying each other and coming together for one cause -- to have fun. The love in the atmosphere is so pronounced and satisfying, that for a moment in time you forget how much tragedy the world is experiencing.”

The lineup for the main stage included some of Philadelphia’s finest, which included Suzann Christine, Mozaic Flow, and Jeff Bradshaw who brought friends, Eric Roberson, Glenn Lewis, Frank McComb, and Tony Rich. The talent that was showcased at the Philly Soul Stock stage was equally amazing. Artists such as Freedom Imani, with his incredible vocals and Philly’s Breakthrough Artist of the Year, Dell P with his thought-provoking message, had the crowd, young and old, dancing in the street.

Plans for the 2018 “Jazz on the Ave” Music Fest are underway. There will be an announcement made in early April 2018. Follow JOA on social media for event updates.

Thank you to our community sponsors: The Philadelphia Department of Commerce, The City of Philadelphia, Community College of Philadelphia, Philadelphia Media Network (The Inquirer, Daily News and Philly.Com) and Excel Medical Centers for their support. A special thanks to Patty Jackson and Dyana Williams for hosting the festival, and many thanks to the Cecil B. Moore Community, Cecil

Home Loan Program for Philadelphia Residents

The Renovate & Repair Loan Program (R&R) is designed to meet serious housing issues for many of Pennsylvania's homeowners: how to make their home a healthy, comfortable place and a financial asset. The R&R Loan Program collaboration between PHFA & Beech has been developed to assist homeowners in avoiding common pitfalls in home improvement projects such as homeowners being taken advantage of by unscrupulous lenders and contractors, poor quality and unnecessary repairs.

Keystone Renovate & Repair Loan Program (R&R loan) is to help:

- Prevent homeowners from becoming victims of unscrupulous lending practices (i.e., high interest rates and costs, more money borrowed than needed, pre-payment penalties, etc.)
- Homeowners prioritize their home repair spending so that the work that they are having done is what the homeowner really needs. Improve Pennsylvania's aging housing stock for its current residents and future generations.

R&R loan can be used to:

- Pay for repairs and improvements that increase the basic livability of the home, including additions and construction that makes the home safer, more energy efficient, or more accessible to people with disabilities or people who are elderly.
- Remove or fix code violations, hook up to municipal water and sewer systems, and improve or install code-compliant septic or well systems.
- Payment for emergency repairs to critical life-safety systems in the homes, as long as the loan application is made to the Local Program Administrator within 30 days of the repair.

Features of R&R loan:

- Provide an attractive interest rate.
- Help determine the repairs and/or improvements to be done.
- Provides peace of mind in knowing that the right home repairs are done and were completed in a timely manner with quality workmanship.

R&R loan will not pay for:

- Luxury and cosmetic items such as hot tubs, pools, gazebos, etc.

For more information, or to schedule an appointment, call Beech's office at (215) 763-8824.

Loan Program for Businesses

Beech Business Bank (BBB) is a loan program managed by Beech Capital Venture Corporation (BCVC) and is a Certified Development Financial Institution of the U.S. Department of Treasury.

Beech Business Bank provides loans to for-profits, non-profit organizations and community development corporations with a primary focus on the economically distressed areas in North, West, and Northwest Philadelphia. The BBB focuses its activities in communities underserved by existing providers of private capital such as banks, credit unions, and venture funds.

The BBB provides access to capital for existing businesses, new entrepreneurs, and neighborhood-based organizations involved in activities that result in:

- The creation or expansion of businesses
- The creation and/or retention of jobs
- The construction or renovation of commercial real estate

If you are a new or existing business, in need of financing, please visit http://www.beechinterplex.com/bbb_lending_opportunities.asp to get more information on how to obtain a loan for your business, or to obtain the loan guidelines and application. You may also contact, Larry Griffin at (215) 763-8824 to schedule an appointment.

Enrichment Program for Students

With the support of a grant from the Alston-Beech Foundation via the Friends of Bache-Martin, Bache-Martin Elementary is excited for the return of the Spark program for its 7th grade students. Spark brings together schools, businesses and individuals to create career exploration and self-discovery experiences for middle school students. Workplace-based skills workshops and mentorships bring possibilities to life for students on the path to successful completion of high school and beyond.

Last year, 30 Bache-Martin students participated in Spark Lab workshops and mentorships at Philadelphia companies including Deloitte, Knoll, Gensler, and CFI. With guidance from their mentors, students designed projects based on mutual interests and displayed them to other program participants, teachers, families, and other Spark stakeholders at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in May. Projects ranged from a business plan for the creation of a new football team to a photography project centered around finding beauty in the midst of negativity.

This year's Bache-Martin students will have a chance to discover what is possible for their futures at Deloitte and M&T Bank. The Spark program kicks off on October 13th and runs through May 17th.

For more information, email Friends of Bache-Martin, admin@friendsofbachemartin.org, or call Sparks at (267) 519-4591.

In and Around the Community

Do you know of a community person, living or working in the Cecil B. Moore neighborhood that is doing great things to help improve the quality of life for the residents living here? If yes, we would like to know about them and highlight his/her work in the Cecil B. Moore Community Times.

We are looking to spotlight community residents, children, teachers, business owners, students, and any individual making a difference in the North Philadelphia community. One individual will be featured each quarter and will be selected based on the timely submission of the person's information and the work that they do in the community.

Send a brief description of the person, detailing their work and include your name and contact information, the person's name, telephone number, and picture. To be included in the next Cecil B. Moore Community Times, submissions must be received by November 17, 2017. Email information to: beechcommunityservices@gmail.com, or mail it to, Beech Community Services, 1510 Cecil B. Moore Avenue, Suite 100, Philadelphia, PA 19121, Attention: Christine Brown.

The Advocate Center provides as many opportunities as possible for students to develop their voice, confidence, self-worth, and self-advocacy. One of the programs that especially highlight youth voices is the Advocate Leadership Council (ALC). The ALC is a youth run and organized leadership group that addresses issues around youth and community empowerment. One of the main activities of the ALC is to organize the "What Matters" Advocate Neighborhood Forums. During these forums, students participate as panelists in a facilitated discussion to share how they see their community. Donors, community leaders, Temple students, professors and administrators are invited to attend and to listen to what the youth of the community are saying. The goals of the "What Matters" Forums are to educate and inspire stakeholders, and to ignite positive community transformation in North Philadelphia.

The forums have 3 main objectives:

1. Provide opportunities for youth leaders in the community to express their concerns and ideas as local experts and for youth voice to be valued and considered by decision makers.
2. Provide youth with opportunities for professional and academic networking.
3. To open up dialogues between various stakeholders that will lead to action planning for the positive transformation of North Philadelphia.

The first forum was held in November 2016 and was titled the "What Matters" Advocate Neighborhood Forum: Temple University and North Philadelphia Community Relations. It was a huge success. The forum provided a space where youth could be seen as experts and leaders, as well as apply skills they have been learning in art, writing, and basketball in a tangible and meaningful way to help the community. In response to the first forum, Temple Student Government collaborated with the ALC to create Path to Temple Day and a partnership between ALC and AKL Fraternity was formed. The last two forums focused on gentrification, housing, and eviction and featured two of our youth leaders and Mr. Kenneth Scott, President of Beech Companies as panelists.

Vaux Big Picture High School (BPHS) inaugural took place on September 19, 2017 to celebrate the opening of the city's newest college preparatory school. The school is part of the Philadelphia Housing Authority's Choice Neighborhood Transformation Plan. Currently enrolling its 9th class -- The Class of 2022, Vaux BPHS will utilize "learning through internships" and "project-based learning" to offer a unique educational experience. Big Picture Learning (bigpicture.org) is a nationally recognized educational design that yields outstanding student outcomes and success. Focusing on a student-centered approach, Big Picture Learning meets students where they are and brings them to where they dream to land.

Big Picture High School will be a District managed neighborhood high school offering automatic admission for students that reside in the Meade and Morris Elementary School attendance zones. The remaining enrollment will be supplemented by a tiered lottery process with students in the W.D. Kelly attendance zone receiving first priority, and the students residing in the Strawberry Mansion High School attendance zone receiving secondary preference, with any remaining seats filled from across the city.

Community & Business Meetings

Beech Community Services will host monthly meetings for business owners in the Cecil B. Moore community to talk about, and participate in, discussions relating to the planning and increased business relationships between business owners. The meeting goals are to increase the interactions between the business owners and work together to build a viable business association. The meeting notices will be sent to business owners prior to the meeting dates. The meetings are held from 5:30pm to 7:00pm. Call Beech's office, or email us at beechcompanies@gmail.com, if you would like your notice emailed to you.

Thursday, October 19, 2017	5:30pm until 7:00pm
Thursday, November 16, 2017	5:30pm until 7:00pm
Thursday, December 14, 2017	5:30pm until 7:00pm

If you are a developer and interested in having your project listed on the schedule for review, contact Beech's office at (215) 763-8824. All meetings are held at Beech Community Services, 1510 Cecil B. Moore Avenue, 1st floor.

New Public Safety Office on Cecil B. Moore Avenue

Temple Police expanded their presence, opening a new safety hub at 1513 W. Cecil B. Moore Avenue. The new facility will help increase community outreach and other Campus Safety Services resources along the western edge of Main Campus. The new Public Safety Station had its grand opening on September 11, 2017. The event was attended by community residents, public officials, Temple and Allied Universal representatives. The new facility will integrate a community policing team, Temple Emergency Management Services and Allied Universal Security Services.

Community-focused officers based in the new station will concentrate on outreach to local residents. The station features a multi-purpose space where Temple Police can hold community meetings to discuss the needs and concerns of neighbors.

Campus Safety Services Executive Director Charles Leone stated, "We want to be a resource for students and our neighbors by having a permanent presence on the west side of Broad Street. "Our primary goal is for our students and neighbors to be safe, and the new station will provide that."

Free Small Business Training for Neighborhood Businesses

Power Up Your Business is a bold initiative designed to strengthen neighborhood commercial corridors and position small retailers to become economic engines and job creators. Community College of Philadelphia collaborated with Philadelphia Mayor Jim Kenney, Philadelphia City Council, and the City Commerce Department, all of whom are committed to a block-by-block reinvigoration of retail along neighborhood shopping corridors.

Power Up Your Business, a neighborhood-based approach, offering both a 10-week, 30-hour peer-learning class where small business owners are matched with instructors and coaches, and taught basic business management, planning, and marketing; and a Store Owner Series with three-hour workshops that offer information on financial planning, personal and business credit, and local marketing advice.

Launched in January, Power Up Your Business has offered business owners free workshops to help them manage and plan for growth and connect with valuable resources. More than 100 businesses across 43 different zip codes in the city have taken advantage of these free programs.

Power Up Your Business is designed to unlock the potential of the commercial corridors, which are the heart of the neighborhood economy. Small business owners have the option to register for workshops through the Store Owner series or apply to the Peer-Based Learning Experience.

The Store Owner Series are workshops that cover small business basics such as marketing, capital, credit, and bookkeeping. The next series of workshops will be held at Community College of Philadelphia's Northeast Regional Center on October 10th and 24th.

The Peer-Based Learning Experience is a 10-week, 30-hour course in basic small business management and planning that provides practical skills required for running a successful business. Businesses are supported by a general business coach and a financial coach. The deadline to apply for the next class is November 17, 2017.

Business owners can RSVP and take advantage of this free training at www.ccp.edu/powerup. To qualify, participants must be located in Philadelphia and be in business for at least one year.

Health and Wellness Campaign

Are you a health care worker, work with children, or an individual looking to get re-certified or certified in Pediatric First Aid/CPR & AED and Adult CPR & AED? Check It Up in partnership with the American Red Cross will train you and get you certified with a valuable life skill that can help to save someone's life.

Check It Up is a non-profit organization that promotes the importance of Emergency First Aid Training, Nutrition and Fitness. The organization focuses on enhancing the knowledge of healthy dieting by teaching the science of food consumed by living beings and how it effects the body. For additional program information, or to inquire about CPR/First Aid training, contact Jeff Murray or one of the dedicated staff members at (267)202-5207.

The Now We No movement is an awareness campaign that educates women and young girls about the harmful effects presented by the most popular sanitary napkin and tampon brands on the market today. This mission also offers a potential solution, which will cut many of the diseases and health challenges off at the root. The undertaking is to bring awareness to the world, and it begins in our community first. Testimonials from women around the world about the Now We No campaign, and its solution, confirms the need for this information.

The average woman will use approximately 11,000 plus sanitary napkins or more in their lifetime, which means women are unknowingly being slowly poisoned monthly. Tampons are even worse. Tampons actually restrict the natural flow of a woman, ultimately resulting in the high incidence of Toxic Shock Syndrome. There are other health related problems, such as a possible increase in the development of tumors and fibroids.

Sadly, for years, the tampon and sanitary napkin industry has been taking away the option of a healthy lifestyle and in some cases, created products that resulted in death for many women. The FDA does not require manufacturers to disclose the materials used to create these products. Many of which are harmful and in some cases, deadly. For additional information, or to purchase products, visit www.nowweno.net.

(aesthetician skin specialist) within 5 miles of my location. You have to travel to center city for aesthetics beauty, but not anymore.

What were the biggest initial hurdles to building your business and how did you overcome them? Cosmetically improving and fitting out a brand new commercial space that had no walls, no floors, no ceiling and no bathroom, was very new for me. I had never done anything like that before, so I went to Home Depot and took workshops on how to paint, lay down a floor, and install a drop ceiling.

If you could have given yourself a piece of knowledge, or advice when you started your business, what would that be? Be patient with yourself. Find a location with walking traffic, public transportation, and parking available. Learn to ask for help. You cannot do it alone and you have to ask for assistance. Never second guess yourself.

What is the best advice you received about starting your business, and from whom? The best advice I received was from my father, Julius Barnes who told me to stay organized, don't over talk anyone, listen like you don't know even if you know, and ask questions no matter how uneducated it may sound.

How Long Have You Been in Business: 10 years

How did the idea for your business come about? I was working at a prominent beauty store as an aesthetician. I was going to be written up for stealing because I gave a client a complimentary eyebrows service. The client spent about $450 every month with me and it was her birthday, so I give her $30 worth of services. This was my way of saying, thank you for your business and happy Birthday. I wanted to let my clients know how much I appreciated them.

What ignited the spark in you to start a new business venture? The passion of making skin flawless and teaching as many people as I can how to care for the body better, is what ignited me. I love what I do and I never rush with a client or tell them that, we can't do that, or sell them more. I am truthful with each client because my passion is to be the best aesthetician I can be.

What would you say are the top three skills needed to be a successful entrepreneur?

1. Respect time (when you are on time, you are late – when you are 15-minutes early, you are on time.)
2. Stay organized at all times.
3. Never stop learning, and have a mentor in your field.

How did you decide on the location for your business? I decided on this location because it is in the middle of the city and rent is financially reasonable. I am also 15 to 20 minutes away from West Philly, South Philly, Center City, Northern Liberties, Northeast Philadelphia, and Elkins Park.

What would you say was the single most influential factor in bringing your business to the Cecil B. Moore community? No other business in the area is doing what I am doing; an aesthetic beauty store
